Mr. Martin,

My letter to you today is to illustrate how my relationship with our local radio station, KILT FM 100.3 in Houston, Texas, is beneficial in publicizing the many events that happen in our community. I live in Fort Bend County, which is in the southwest region of Houston metroplex. Our community is fortunate to have many generous organizations that provide support to deserving recipients.

In that regard, I am involved, or shall I say, overly-involved with a few of these, namely the American Red Cross, the Rotary Club, the Fort Bend County Fair Association, Lamar Education Awards Foundation and the Fort Bend Society for the Arts. Additionally, I manage a local website that coordinates the fund-raising events for over 200 non-profit members.

In the years I have lived here, I have become friends with several of the local on-air personalities at KILT. We have grown dependant on them to promote the local events in their public service announcements as well as their personal appearances and involvement in the events. We rely on that factor as a major component of our marketing of the respective events and would be hard pressed to imagine if we did not have that voice in the media or had to pay for the air time.

I don't feel as though mine is a singular opinion and actually feel strongly that it should reflect the overall opinion of every member of every board I work with.

I thank you for your attention in this matter.

Respectfully yours,

Don Dulin
